Dear Mrs Hohnen,

I am writing to you with sincere apologies for the tardiness I have displayed since your last letter to me and my phone call to you. I have been very involved in the Tregine side of our family tree which is progressing very slowly. I wrote to the Cornwall Family History Society today asking for their help, and I will join the same. I already read each C.F.H.S. magazine that comes into our library.

Our next Timespan is to be a shipping theme one. I am going to submit a newspaper cutting for the "Lady McNaughten" calling it "the bride ship that reeked of death etc etc". It would be a good opportunity to write something about the cock family arrival 1854 in case someone else has come across their name on a shipping document somewhere. Entries/articles etc are to be submitted by 15th February (see pg.154 'Timespan')

Are you going to publish a book on your findings about the cock family? You should! Your writing style is excellent and your research so thorough. You would have some customers here in Sydney. I have another cousin now who is very interested and my mother reads everything you send me. I read anything with the name mentioned - I wrote to a Mr & Mrs Thomas from Cornwall who registered their interest in the name, but the letter was returned unopened.

The letter you wrote of in your last letter sounds very interesting dated 1855 (re. the family going through a bad time). Could I possibly have a copy of it to read. I will not be at all offended if the answer is No; I appreciate PTO that I am only a beginner in Family History.

The hours & hours of research in money & time that you have spent make people's requests of you difficult, because reciprocation is rare.

I have acquired a copy of "Quench Not The Spirit" thanks to your recommendation

I have just been handed an article / sheath of papers ^{by you} headed the "Cock Family" sent to E. Lindsay for Timewares / Library inclusion which also mentions another letter 30.1.1868 headed South Creek from Robert Cock to Edwin. Could I also see a copy of it? Again, no offense intended; or taken if the answer is no.

Next week (after 7th Jan) I am going to Sydney to the Archives & the Land Office. I will get a map re. Fleurs owners 1860's (that is the owner after Richard Jones, is that correct?) Please ring me (047512859) if there is any more information
I should need, or should ask for or find out in Sydney. Perhaps this is somehow I can help you. Garry is going to mind the children &
I shall have all day to search.

I will sign off here; I will let you know
as soon as I have any information for you,

Yours Faithfully,

Jenni Trezise.

Dear Mrs Kohnen,

I enclose your letter from Eugenie Stapleton
It is a very interesting letter but I dispute a few of her facts, primarily current ownership & facts re. the original grant.

I found last time I was at the Archives a shipping record. You may have already seen it & discounted its relevance for us but here it is anyway:—

15.9.1853 Barque "Kinnear" from London, Tonnage 368. Sailed 14.4.1853 laden with merchandise. Agent R. Towers.

Cabin Passengers Names:—

Mr & Mrs COCK
(2) Misses COCK
Mr. G. A COCK
Master. C? F. O. COCK.

Steerage.

The Honorable - The Colonial Secretary

Please let me know if it has any special relevance, and I'll send the original document (copy).

My COCK research is in a lull just now as I've set up a Tregie ONE NAME GROUP world wide, with over 280 family groups thus far (I've sent 280 letters - must be mad!) But the response is fantastic. I'm now a member of C.F.H.S, I joined in February but the journals etc have just arrived this week. I've done a little work on the ROBENS line (named ROBINS in your screed or that from Grace Scott) - the line descends from Stephen ROBENS, missionary of the Methodist Church & the original instigator of the City Mission in Sydney who are publishing later this year, using a great deal of information re Stephen. Stephen was the father of Thomas Robens, who in turn was the father of Violet Robens who married George Herbert COCK.

I'll close now,

Please write again.
